Nutty, almost savoury pear and even hay – inviting and multi-layered aroma. Bone dry but just slightly creamy. Moreish and mouth-watering with the variety's typical nicely bitter finish. Rocky, almost oily spice emerges with time in the glass. So refreshing and deliciously dry but the fruit gives depth and length. GV (JH)

Light cherry red. Peppery energy leaps from the glass, with bright, sour cherry. That tasty peppery character is back on the palate and it is so full of life and refreshment. Fine, elegant and exciting at the same time. The tannins are very fine boned but just right for the framework of the bright fruit. Mouth-watering finish. GV (JH)

Light to mid cherry red. A little more savoury and meaty than the straight Rossese di Dolceacqua. Richer, riper and less flirtatious but still with that delicious peppery red fruit energy. Chewy, moreish texture and excellent length and still a way to go. (JH)
